Administrative History

The Young Women's Christian Association of Trenton, New Jersey (YWCA of Trenton) was founded in 1904 and was incorporated on February 14, 1905 with the mission of supporting the empowerment of girls and women and the elimination of racism. The YWCA of Trenton is a local branch of the YWCA, which is an international organization that seeks to empower women, families, and communities by promoting peace and social justice in many areas including women's rights, civil rights, income equality, violence prevention, and health care.

The YWCA of Trenton was an outgrowth of the Bible Reader's Aid, a club dedicated to supplying recreational activities to young women of the city. The main branch of the Association was established in 1908 at 138 and 140 East Hanover Street. This original building was later razed and rebuilt in 1924 to serve as the headquarters of the Association.

The early functions of the YWCA of Trenton included activities, events, luncheons, and classes in domestic science, religious education, physical training, English, millinery, and general sewing. During World War I, the Association offered Red Cross classes in First Aid and Home Nursing, community recreation in the gymnasium, and collaborated volunteer nurses during a 1918 influenza outbreak. Starting in 1925, the organization created the city's first public cafeteria that served the community daily and hosted club and committee meetings. Also in the 1920s, the Association purchased a farm in New Hope, PA to serve as a camp site used for recreation and activities, although this location was later sold. The Association participated in the annual summer Silver Bay Conference until it was discontinued in 1928.

Dunham Residence Hall at 127 Academy Street, named after Mrs. Edward W. Dunham, opened in the 1920s as a secure home away from home for single women in the community. The hall had 68 rooms for residents of one-night or many years. In later years, the hall offered 90-beds to provide transitional and permanent housing to low-income and homeless women.

The Montgomery Street Branch was donated to the Association in 1925, which served the African-American Community of the city. The branch opened its doors to African-American servicemen during World War II. The branch closed in 1950 with the complete racial integration of the YWCA.

After the Great Depression and into the 1930s, the Association held programs and meetings for women across industries, lowered room rents in Dunham Residence Hall, and provided gymnasium and swimming classes. During World War II, the Association served a free light supper for servicemen, instituted special events for servicemen, sent junior hostesses for dances at Fort Dix, and opened up space in Dunham Residence Hall for wartime emergencies, such as temporary housing for whole families. In the 1940s and 1950s, the Association worked towards progress for interracial fellowship, with the Interracial Day Camp in 1944, integration of the YWCA in 1950, and neighborhood meetings in the 1950s.

In the 1960s and 1970s the Association continued work on social action and progression in the organization. In 1964, Dunham Residence Hall became home to 67 freshman women from Trenton State College due to the overflow of limited dormitory space. During the Trenton riots of 1968 there was very limited damage to the YWCA premises at the Hanover and Academy Street buildings.

The Hamilton Township Branch opened in 1969 to provide programs, such as sewing, dance, and a girl's teen club, for suburban women and their families. The After School Enrichment Program and Summer Enrichment Program began in 1971 offering tutoring, education games, and writing programs. In 1974, the Association created a Child Development Center in the Hanover Street Building, which provided all-day care for pre-school children. The Hamilton Center rebranded as the YWCA's Young Wonder Preschool in 2006, with a similar program created in Trenton at East Hanover Street. Although it had been closed for almost two decades, the YWCA Health and Fitness center re-opened in 2007.

In the 1990s and early 2000s, the Association continued to support its mission by offering programming for children and families, as well as annual events such as “In Celebration of Women,” “New Face of Fitness” programming, “Week Without Violence” campaign, and the “Stand Against Racism” movement. The Association received award certificates from the city of Trenton in 2000 for community service achievements and in 2012 for the New Jersey Women’s Hall of Fame.

Scope and Content Note

The Collection consists of records pertaining to the activities and functions of the Young Women’s Christian Association of Trenton, New Jersey. The records were created or acquired by the Association from 1904 to 2015 (bulk 1920-2007). Materials found in the collection include business records, photographs, newspapers clippings, blueprints, and artifacts. Business records include annual meeting programs and reports, committee meeting reports, the organization’s constitution, member lists, correspondence, programs and ephemera from events, financial records, incorporation documents, articles and booklets on the history of the Association, personnel records, and promotional materials. Materials also include loose photographs and newspaper clippings, as well as photo albums and newspaper clipping scrapbooks.

The Collection is divided into five series: Series I: Business Records, 1904-2008; Series II: Photographs, 1924-2013; Series III: Newspaper Clippings 1922-2014; Series IV: Building and Renovation Documents and Blueprints, 1924-2001; Series V: Artifacts, 1925-2002.

The majority of the material contained in the Collection pertains to the administrative functions, operational activities, and programming of the main branch of the YWCA of Trenton, which was located at 140 East Hanover Street. However, there are records and materials pertaining to additional properties operated by the YWCA of Trenton and other local branches of the YWCA. Records and materials specific to these properties have been separated into their own folders by subject.

The Collection contains programs and ephemera related to events held by or in association with the YWCA of Trenton in Series I. Photographs of YWCA staff and members, as well as activities and events of the Association are in Series II. The Collection also contains two items from the Young Men’s Christian Association. Two folders already existing in Trentoniana’s vertical files containing mostly promotional materials were also added to the collection.

Provenance Note

The items from the Young Women’s Christian Association of Trenton, New Jersey were obtained by Trentoniana in March 2016 as a donation from Bruce Lindsay, who rescued the documents before they were discarded.

Note on Arrangement

Since the records were going to be discarded, they arrived at the repository in poor condition and most of the original order was lost. Whenever possible, original order was maintained, such as documents in a single folder being kept together. The folders are arranged alphabetically by subject, and then chronologically. All documents within folders are arranged chronologically unless otherwise noted.

Processing Notes

Where no original order existed, an order was imposed. Metal clips and staples were removed from most materials. Materials were placed in new acid-free folders and boxes. Fragile documents and photographs were placed in archival sheet protectors. Documents within envelopes were removed, but housed in an acid-free folder with the original envelope.

Photographs were removed from picture frames and damaged photo album covers. Some photo album covers were removed due to poor condition. The newspaper clipping scrapbooks in Series III are in fragile condition and contain loose clippings. Oversized items were placed in flat boxes.
